

"How Sustainability is Changing the NW & Your Real Estate Business Seminar"

Class held at Fish Singer Place, a new sustainable home community located at 15715 Dayton Ave N Seattle. Tour the new Martha Rose Construction community and see firsthand how low impact development and green building are impacting our region.

You Will Learn About

- Regional Population Growth and Demographic Forecasts, Policies and Initiatives
 - Low Impact Development (LID) for Current Land Use and Development
 - Examples of Local LID Projects
 - Rain Gardens, Green Roofs and Green Walls
 - Native Plants, the Value of Trees
 - Seattle's "Green Factor", a New Building Requirement in Seattle

This is a fun class designed for lots of discussion and input from Agents. I have had great reviews from nearly all of the participants who have taken this class; it is very different from most of the other clock hour classes available.

Date: Wednesday March 3rd

Time: 1- 4PM

Approved for 3 Continuing Ed. Clock Hours $35

For more information or other available dates & locations contact

Patty Moriarty 206.898.0356 or patty@nativegrowth.com

NativeGrowth.com

All participants receive their Clock Hour Certificate and a CD which includes the presentation along with several other relevant resource links and articles.